Madeira Brings It All Home

Get the inside story on all there is to love about "The Friendly Towns."

Named after railroad treasurer John Madeira in 1885, Madeira was officially incorporated in 1910, and its homey and welcoming atmosphere quickly earned it the affectionate moniker "The Friendly Town." Today Madeira offers all the modern amenities—great schools, easily accessible location, plenty of shopping and dining options, parks, athletic clubs, and more—while still retaining its original small-town, family-friendly demeanor.
